Susan,

I agree with Mary's proposed assignments.

OSRE was also involved in Dimock and Pavillion and should be looped in on Inhofe Questions 60a, 61, and 65.

I can forward this to OSRE.

We have a response to a prior Congressional question that is somewhat similar to Question 61. We will dust off that response and send for review ASAP.

Thanks,

-Andrew

Andrew - Please see the attached questions. OECA only has the lead in one and I think OCE is the only Office involved in any of them. Please tell me if you feel otherwise. I assume most are questions you have already answered in some form. I hope so.

Steve - How do you want this handled procedurally?

I'll be in all day tomorrow if you want to talk about it.

Thanks,

Susan

Hello,

Attached are the SEPW QFRs I mentioned in my earlier email. OCIR is providing these to me to send out so your OCIR contact probably has not seen this request. In light of the rush and the need to receive very concise responses I have been asked to circulate these. Please be sure to copy everyone on this email with your response since some folks will be reviewing responses in parallel with me. Please submit your responses as early as you can Monday afternoon but definitely by COB Monday in Times Roman Numeral 12 pt. I appreciate your assistance and apologize for the rush.

Below are the fracking questions to focus on along with my "best guess" as to the offices that should be the lead in preparing a response and the offices that should contribute pieces to be added to the lead response. Please take a look at the questions and let me know if I guessed wrong and the line-up needs to be changed.

Also, if the lead office would leave placeholders in their response I can integrate the non-lead office pieces into the lead office's response when everything arrives.

In addition, I have asked OCIR to identify previous responses that can address some of the questions but I won't see that until tomorrow and I didn't want to hold up getting this around. I will send that around as soon as it arrives. Again, thank you. Let me know of any questions, etc.

Mary

Hello,

There are fracking questions for the record from a budget hearing that are coming to me tonight and they are due out Monday as I understand it. I will need your assistance in drafting short, concise responses in a short timeframe. Stay tuned and thank you in advance.

Mary
